Cathedral House update

Sometimes I can never be sure when my working week begins. Is it a Sunday when things outside of the regular timetable are taking place and I need to be present at the Cathedral? Or is it still a Monday? In which case does that mean that I work 6 days a week, or 5? Just wondering out loud really. I refer to this week as we led the BBC Radio 4 live broadcast on Sunday from the Cathedral. We received lots of appreciative comments and telephone calls from listeners who had tuned in, and wanted to pass on their congratulations. I think you should still be able to listen to the broadcast if you wished via the BBC iPlayer. But you need to be quick. Panis Angelicus is particularly beautiful.

This Monday morning the Cathedral fell victim to a serious power cut which hit all the shops, some parts of the University, restaurants and pubs in the area, and of course the Cathedral. We were plunged into darkness; the phones stopped ringing and our computers all went off. There was nothing else we could do except have a cup of tea and wait for things to return to normal – only thing was the kettle was not working. The slight anxiety was that we had a large corporate event taking place in the Crypt later on that evening which involved a big set-up with lights, pa system and lots of food and drink which needed to be chilled, but in the end it only lasted a couple of hours before Scottish Power had located the faulty cable and restored order.

The conversion of the Cathedral Convent ready for the Chemin Neuf community moving in before September is well underway as you will have read some weeks ago. The modern, updated kitchen in Cathedral House was unveiled this week and what a transformation. It's bright, clean and fresh, and despite the misgivings of all of the ladies working in Cathedral House I think we all agreed that, more or less (!) the Dean got the colour scheme right! The banging and drilling and dust everywhere has all been worth it. Now we just need to get used to where everything is again – and cleaning up after ourselves!

Next weekend sees the start of the wedding season, and unusual as this is, we have two weddings on the same day. Not sure how this has happened, as due to a near disaster a few years ago when we did have 2 weddings on the same day, we decided that we should stick to the policy of one wedding only on any given day. The first bride not arrive until half an hour after she should have been here, by which time the second bridal party were turning up and guests were getting a little confused about what was going on. Fortunately at the end of it the grooms married the right brides. Whether or not all the guests ended up at the correct wedding breakfast is a different matter. I was speaking to the first bride this week who has assured me that she will be on time!! Let's hope so.

If you are in the Cathedral over the coming week have a look at the 'Sew Many Trees' exhibition that is in the West Apse. Faiths4Change have been delivering a funded project to raise awareness about the huge amount of textiles sent to landfill in Merseyside – currently a staggering 22,000 tonnes each year. The Sew Many Trees project has worked with 29 local schools and community groups in which they have engaged residents and pupils to increase skills, opportunities and diverting textiles from landfill. Each group has created a textile tree banner from their old and unwanted clothes and the tree banners have been brought together to create a textile Forest! Each group's design has a theme which they saw as important to their own class/group so you can see rainforest trees and disco trees to name a couple. Do have a

ST VINCENT'S LOTTERY NUMBERS

For week commencing 6 June. Winning numbers are 4, 6, 7, 8, 10 and 14. Prize was £500. There were no winners. Next week the prize money will be £550.

ST NICHOLAS' SCHOOL

This week has been a particularly sporty one, for our children and staff! Year 5 and 6 children have taken part in cricket and football tournaments so Mr Goodall was glad of the lovely weather and hopes it continues for our upcoming sports day and more inter-school school competitions. New after-school clubs have begun this week, including boxing / Boxercise. There was also a staff class, which was great fun (although there were a few stiff shoulders and achy arms the following day!). At the time of writing, the children who were visiting London had arrived safely and had enjoyed an afternoon at the Science museum. Mrs Needham commented on the exemplary behaviour and that all were really excited about the visit to the Houses of Parliament and the theatre trip to watch Charlie and the Chocolate Factory before their journey home. Next week, Year 1 children across the country will have their phonics screening tests and, in school, we will be thinking particularly about Refugees and how difficult life can be.

HOPE+ NEWS

HOPE+ URGENT APPEAL

Despite a very generous response to our #FillTheseShelves appeal, we have been overwhelmed by a surge in demand for our services. As a result, as fast as we #FillTheseShelves, we empty them again! Last week we ended up spending £382.73 of money generously donated by individuals, on buying in critical shortage items. This is not something we can sustain. We had to buy in 200 tins of chopped tomatoes, 120 tins of fish, as well as an additional 80 litres of milk on top of the 120 we buy each week, we also bought in our usual fresh fruit and veg, and 1500 carrier bags. It is still only mid June. If you already donate regularly to us, if at all possible could you consider adding an extra tin of fish, or jar of pasta or curry sauce (Our two main shortage items) to your donation? If you have not made a donation to us before, or perhaps have not done so for some time, please could you consider adding your support? Please pick up one of our shopping lists.

On a happier note, we received news this week that HM Revenue & Customs are going to start a regular staff collection for us at their Kings Dock headquarters. For further information please contact foodbank@liverpoolcathedral.org.uk
